

It's Our World

Lessons for Peace and Reconciliation

One Conference. Many Reasons.

It's Our World: Lessons for Peace and Reconciliation

Saturday, November 6, 2010

8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Shortridge Magnet High School
for Law and Public Policy
Indianapolis, IN

The Committee on Teaching about the United Nations, in collaboration with Kappa Delta Pi, International Honor Society in Education, invites you to attend "It's Our World: Lessons for Peace and Reconciliation." This day-long conference will offer keynote presentations and breakout session workshops geared towards providing strategies and resources for middle school through collegiate level students, educators, and organization representatives interested in integrating peace and conflict resolution in their classrooms, in outreach activities, and in their lives.

Keynote Presenters:

Cora Weiss

president of the Hague Appeal for Peace

James Morris

former head of the UN World Food Programme

Mariatu Kamara

survivor of the Sierra Leone civil war

Some of the more than 15

Workshop Presenters

include:

Mary Grabianowski

Model United Nations

Dr. Siobhan McEvoy-Levy

Child Soldiers and Youth Peacemakers

Sarah Powley

Genocide

The Children's Museum of

Indianapolis

The Power of Children

Peace Learning Center

Peaceful Classroom Communities

Why Attend?

In addition to being re-energized, conference attendees will learn about the programs of the United Nations and its continued relevance in the 21st century and will:

- explore how we can learn from our own experiences as educators, activists, students and citizens to take responsibility for transforming the world community;
- make a commitment to enhancing our empathy for one another and recapturing ravaged environments;
- take responsibility to improve the quality of life for everyone, at a personal, local and global level;
- learn about peace and reconciliation from expressions of art, such as film, literature and murals, and by listening to personal and inspiring narratives.

For more information, please visit:

<http://www.teachun.org> or

<http://www.kdp.org/internationalinitiatives/unconference.php>

This program has been made possible through a matching grant from the Indiana Humanities Council in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Humanities.