

Program Section: Explore KDP Online

Organization of program:

1. Set the date for this program when it will be most beneficial to the member.
Recommended date: soon after the initiation ceremony.
2. Reserve a computer lab or a room with multiple computers.
3. Prepare for the meeting by printing off the sheet with items that can be found online.
This list can be found at http://www.kdp.org/services/activities/kdponline_easy.php.
 - a. Find your chapter in the chapter directory. What date was your chapter installed?
 - b. In what year did Margaret Mead become a Laureate member?
 - c. Who is the current president of Kappa Delta Pi?
 - d. Locate the Member Benefits page. Which company offers KDP members a discount on classroom supplies?
 - e. Find an article about John Dewey, the first KDP Laureate member.
 - f. Where is the Address Change form located?
 - g. Determine your phase in the Life Cycle of the Career Teacher model.
 - h. What was one suggested resource for your phase?
 - i. Describe the design of the KDP travel mug available in the KDP Store.
 - j. Provide the name of a KDP graduate scholarship.
 - k. What is the date and location of the next I TEACH Regional Conference?
 - l. Name a recommended Web site that is a resource on differentiated instruction.

Evening of program:

1. Announce that it is time for the program section of the meeting to begin or, if this is a free-standing program, welcome everyone to the program.
2. Explain to the members that the first person or team to answer all the questions and list the Web site address where they found the information will win the prize. (Prize selection is up to the chapter)
3. Pass out the sheets.
4. Once a winner is identified, discuss each question so that all members know where to locate the information.
5. Award the prize and congratulate the winners.
6. Continue with the Recognition section of the meeting or, if this is a free-standing program, thank everyone for coming and invite them to stay for refreshments (if applicable).
