

How to Decrease Missing Work

Laura Joy Palma

1. Increase communication with parents; make them aware when their children are falling behind.
2. Post due dates visibly in the classroom.
3. Provide students with assignment due-date handouts ahead of time.
4. Be as clear, specific, and detailed as possible.
5. Post missing work in a consistent location in the classroom.
6. Remind students daily that late work may be handed in for a lower grade.

How to Decrease Missing Work

Laura Joy Palma

1. Increase communication with parents; make them aware when their children are falling behind.
2. Post due dates visibly in the classroom.
3. Provide students with assignment due-date handouts ahead of time.
4. Be as clear, specific, and detailed as possible.
5. Post missing work in a consistent location in the classroom.
6. Remind students daily that late work may be handed in for a lower grade.

How to Decrease Missing Work

Laura Joy Palma

1. Increase communication with parents; make them aware when their children are falling behind.
2. Post due dates visibly in the classroom.
3. Provide students with assignment due-date handouts ahead of time.
4. Be as clear, specific, and detailed as possible.
5. Post missing work in a consistent location in the classroom.
6. Remind students daily that late work may be handed in for a lower grade.

How to Decrease Missing Work

Laura Joy Palma

7. Increase communication with parents; make them aware when their children are falling behind.
8. Post due dates visibly in the classroom.
9. Provide students with assignment due-date handouts ahead of time.
10. Be as clear, specific, and detailed as possible.
11. Post missing work in a consistent location in the classroom.
12. Remind students daily that late work may be handed in for a lower grade.