

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

June 5, 2015

Contact: Kathie-Jo Arnoff

Director of Publications

800-284-3167

kathiejo@kdp.org

KAPPA DELTA PI WINS REVERE AWARD FOR KAPPA DELTA PI RECORD

Award from Association of American Publishers (AAP) honors Kappa Delta Pi for excellence in educational products

(Washington, DC) – Kappa Delta Pi International Society in Education is pleased to announce that the Kappa Delta Pi Record was presented an award for Professional Magazines at the REVERE Awards Gala on June 3. The award was given for the “Telling Stories” department of the journal, which was designed to share universal lessons through personal narratives.

The REVERE (Recognizing Valuable Educational Resources) Awards recognize creative resources that engage 21st century teachers and learners. Produced by the Association of American Publishers (AAP) PreK-12 Learning Group, the awards are the only of their kind to distinguish learning resources in all media, for all ages, and covering a wide array of educational subject areas and learning environments.

“We created the “Telling Stories” department of the Kappa Delta Pi Record, which is published in partnership with Routledge of Taylor & Francis, more than a decade ago because stories are such a powerful medium,” stated Kathie-Jo Arnoff, Managing Editor and Director of Publications at Kappa Delta Pi. “The personal, heartfelt stories not only relay a memorable message about teaching and learning, but also provide inspiration, help teachers retain key lessons in effective instruction, and balance the quarterly journal’s content on evidence-based teaching strategies, reviews of current policy initiatives, examples of applied theories, and reports of original research.”

The Award was given in the Professional Magazines category, which recognizes newspapers, journals, blogs, podcasts, webcasts and other regularly published media.

“This year’s winners present an impressive slate of learning resources across all educational settings. While it was difficult to choose just one winner in the Professional Magazines category for Editorial Departments, we were excited to present a REVERE Award to the Kappa Delta Pi Record,” said REVERE Awards Judge and Awards committee chairperson, Eric Hamilton, Assistant Director, NCSLET Administration at the American Museum of Natural History.

Award winners were evaluated through in-person events and remote judging by 100 evaluators in the education and publishing industries. Key principles that drove the evaluation of winners were quality content and design, audience engagement and appropriateness, usability and originality and effectiveness along with comments and recommendations given by judges. For a full list of winners, click here. Also visit the Awards Gallery which features 2015 winners and finalists.

Follow or join the conversation about the REVERE Awards on Twitter using @REVEREAwards and #REVEREAwards.

###

About Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, International Honor Society in Education, is a 501 (c) (3) organization established in 1911 to recognize and promote excellence in education. Committed to ensuring that all learners receive a quality education that prepares them for the challenges of today's world, KDP supports the professional growth and teaching practices of educators throughout all phases and levels of their careers. The organization currently has more than 600 chapters and an active membership of nearly 40,000 worldwide.

Visit us online at KDP.org or on Twitter at @kappadeltapi.

About AAP

The Association of American Publishers (AAP) is the voice of the U.S. book and journal publishing industry. AAP represents the industry's priorities on policy, legislative, and regulatory issues regionally, nationally and worldwide. These include the protection of intellectual property rights and worldwide copyright enforcement, digital and new technology issues, funding for education and libraries, tax and trade, censorship, and literacy. Our 400 member companies represent major commercial, educational and professional companies, as well as independents, non-profits, university presses, and scholarly societies.

Find us online at www.publishers.org or on Twitter at @AmericanPublish.