KAPPA DELTA PI PARTNERS WITH PEOPLE TO PEOPLE TO OFFER EDUCATIONAL TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIPS

(INDIANAPOLIS)—Kappa Delta Pi (KDP), International Honor Society in Education, is pleased to announce a new partnership with People to People Ambassador Programs, one of the world’s most recognized and respected educational travel providers, on a scholarship program exclusively for KDP members.

KDP members have the opportunity to apply for six full travel scholarships to lead one of People to People’s highly respected flagship programs: Leadership Summits and World Leadership Forums. These summer programs will take place in Washington, D.C., (three trips, including one to George Washington University), Boston (Harvard), and Los Angeles (UCLA).

Those chosen will facilitate student leadership training that focuses on global citizenship, leadership skills, and goal setting with students in grades 6–12 from all over the world.

“Having a daughter who led multiple international student trips as a teacher leader, I saw firsthand the unique experiences People To People programs offer to everyone involved,” said Faye Snodgress, Executive Director of Kappa Delta Pi. “Our partnership provides new opportunities for KDP members to benefit from established, quality programs and international travel that advances culture competency and leadership skills.”

People to People has created and organized one-of-a-kind experiences for students in fifth grade through college for 50 years. More than 15,000 Ambassadors travel annually; the organization has more than 500,000 program alumni across the globe.

“Partnering with Kappa Delta Pi is a natural fit for us; both organizations are dedicated to preparing students for life as global citizens,” said Natasha Porter, Vice President of Product Management at People to People. “Our programs support global education through immersive experiences and peer-to-peer interactions, whether it’s traveling abroad or participating on a student leadership program alongside students and educators from over 140 countries. Also the teachers who lead our programs, like the members of KDP, are committed educators who engage students’ minds and help them gain new perspectives and critical thinking.”

Members may apply for the scholarships by submitting a one-minute video explaining why they would like to be considered for a scholarship and answering two additional essay questions. Applicants may also select their level of interest and preference in each of the scholarship programs. The application portal will be open January 19–March 1; scholarship recipients will be notified the week of March 9.
