

Selection Criteria: Convocation 2019 Workshop

The number of traditional workshop sessions with single presenters will be limited, so those who desire to present are encouraged to consider submitting proposals in other session formats. Note that proposal reviewers may ask proposal submitters to modify their presentations to fit a different session format. Presenters must remain flexible to the scheduling process.

Kappa Delta Pi strives to be the source of what's new in education and to promote the latest techniques in teaching and learning. Convocation 2019 is an opportunity to offer a cutting-edge conference experience where attendees of all generations and experience levels gain as much from the information shared as possible.

Today's unique learner thrives in environments that are collaborative, centered on real-world issues, and visually and technologically rich. To meet students' needs, educators know that they cannot teach the way they have in the past; they must update their instruction and design learning experiences that are both mentally and physically active. Adhering to these principles, Kappa Delta Pi seeks conference presenters who will engage attendees in innovative ways, create highly interactive sessions, and provide content that can be applied or incorporated into an educators practice. Ideally, the format should be no more than 50% delivered information, with the rest of the session including interactive or hands-on engagement.

Please use the criteria listed below to evaluate each proposal. Proposals with the highest rating will be incorporated into the Convocation program as space permits.

Scoring Rubric

Evaluate how well the presentation will fulfill the outlined objectives using a scale of 1–4, with 1 being "N/A or does not meet criteria" and 4 being "meets or exceeds criteria." You will notice several criteria have been weighed more heavily. For those items, 4 is low and 7 is meeting or exceeding the criteria.

Please support your ratings with narrative, including detailed concerns, questions, suggestions for improvement, and further explanation of your evaluation.

Proposal Submission Form: Information requested on the proposal submission form is complete.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Theme/Strands: The presentation addresses the conference theme and strands.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Focus: The presentation is relevant to the education and professional development of the intended audience.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Practicality of Information: The information is practical, can be easily implemented, and has broad applicability.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Audiovisuals/Handouts: The presentation incorporates audio/visual tools, and attendees will receive handouts or other materials they can take with them.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Organization/Timeliness: The presentation is clear, well-organized, and current.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Innovativeness/Creativity: The proposal topic is novel, innovative, or creative.

4 5 6 7

Comments:

Instructional Method: The presentation involves 50% delivered information with the rest of the session interactive.

4 5 6 7

Comments:

Learning Outcomes: Learning outcomes for attendees are well-defined.

1 2 3 4

Comments

The Topic: Has potential to attract Convo attendees and to meet a professional need.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Total Score:

Recommendation: Accept Accept, if space is available Do not accept

Additional Comments:

Selection Criteria: Convocation 2019 Roundtable

The number of traditional workshop sessions with single presenters will be limited, so those who desire to present are encouraged to consider submitting proposals in other session formats. Note that proposal reviewers may ask proposal submitters to modify their presentations to fit a different session format. Presenters must remain flexible to the scheduling process.

Kappa Delta Pi strives to be the source of what's new in education and to promote the latest techniques in teaching and learning. Convocation 2019 is an opportunity to offer a cutting-edge conference experience where attendees of all generations and experience levels gain as much from the information shared as possible.

Today's unique learner thrives in environments that are collaborative, centered on real-world issues, and visually and technologically rich. To meet students' needs, educators know that they cannot teach the way they have in the past; they must update their instruction and design learning experiences that are both mentally and physically active. Adhering to these principles, Kappa Delta Pi seeks conference presenters who will engage attendees in innovative ways, create highly interactive sessions, and provide opportunities for application and use of the information.

The Roundtable format is a 30-minute presentation within a 60-minute session. In this format, two selected presenters will share a table, present their work, and then host a conversation with other attendees. Category areas for Roundtable discussions are Research, Best Practices, Advocacy, or International. Please use the criteria listed below to evaluate each proposal. Proposals with the highest rating will be incorporated into the Convocation program as space permits.

Scoring Rubric

Evaluate how well the presentation will fulfill the outlined objectives using a scale of 1–4, with 1 being "N/A or does not meet criteria" and 4 being "meets or exceeds criteria." You will notice several criteria have been weighed more heavily. For those items, 4 is low and 7 is meeting or exceeding the criteria.

Please support your ratings with narrative, including detailed concerns, questions, suggestions for improvement, and further explanation of your evaluation.

Proposal Submission Form: Information requested on the proposal submission form is complete.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

KDP Mission and Goals: The content is appropriate to KDP's mission and goals.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Theme/Strands: The presentation aligns with the conference theme and strands.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Focus: The presentation is relevant to the education and professional development of the intended audience.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Practicality of Information: The information is practical, can be easily implemented, and has broad applicability.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Presentation Format: The proposed presentation aligns well with the roundtable format.

4 5 6 7

Comments:

Handouts/Resources: The presentation incorporates handouts or resources that attendees can take with them.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Organization/Timeliness: The presentation is clear, well-organized, and current.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Innovativeness/Creativity: The proposal topic is novel, innovative, or creative.

4 5 6 7

Comments:

Learning Outcomes: Learning outcomes for attendees are well-defined.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

The Topic: Has potential to attract Convo attendees and to meet a professional need.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Total Score:

Recommendation: Accept Accept, if space is available Do not accept

Additional Comments:

Selection Criteria: 2019 PowerTalks

The number of traditional workshop sessions with single presenters will be limited, so those who desire to present are encouraged to consider submitting proposals in other session formats. Note that proposal reviewers may ask proposal submitters to modify their presentations to fit a different session format. Presenters must remain flexible to the scheduling process.

Kappa Delta Pi strives to be the source of what's new in education and to promote the latest techniques in teaching and learning. Convocation 2019 is an opportunity to offer a cutting-edge conference experience where attendees of all generations and experience levels gain as much from the information shared as possible.

PowerTalks will be a mix of focused presentations on topics from among those suggested in the conference strands. Individual presenters will be assigned a 15-minute time slot within the session to share a focused presentation with a clear message. Presentations will be followed by time for discussion.

Please use the criteria listed below to evaluate each proposal. Proposals with the highest rating will be incorporated into the Convocation program as space permits.

Scoring Rubric

Evaluate how well the presentation will fulfill the outlined objectives using a scale of 1–4, with 1 being “N/A or does not meet criteria” and 4 being “meets or exceeds criteria.” You will notice some criteria have been weighed more heavily. For those items, 4 is low and 7 is meeting or exceeding the criteria.

Please support your ratings with narrative, including detailed concerns, questions, suggestions for improvement, and further explanation of your evaluation.

Proposal Submission Form: Information requested on the proposal submission form is complete.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Theme/Strands: The presentation aligns with the conference theme and strands.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Focus: The primary focus of the presentation and message that attendees will take away are relevant to the education and professional development of the intended audience.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Format: The proposed topic lends itself to the PowerTalk format.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Practicality of Information: The information is practical, can be easily implemented, and has broad applicability.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Organization/Timeliness: The presentation is clear, well-organized, and current.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Innovativeness/Creativity: The proposal topic is novel, innovative, or creative.

4 5 6 7

Comments:

Learning Outcomes: Learning outcomes for attendees are well-defined.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

The Topic: Has potential to attract Convo attendees and to meet a professional need.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Discussion Questions: Discussion questions are appropriate for stimulating reflection and discussion.

4 5 6 7

Comments:

Total Score:

Recommendation: Accept Accept, if space is available Do not accept

Additional Comments:

Lessons Learned: 2019 Selection Criteria

The Lessons Learned session gives individual presenters a chance to advise and mentor others in areas where they have learned valuable lessons through their experiences of being involved in the education profession. This session is offered one time during the conference and will be set up in a networking style environment. Participants will have the opportunity to have one-on-one conversations with someone who is experienced in an identified topic area in which they have an interest.

Kappa Delta Pi strives to be the source of what's new in education and to promote the latest techniques in teaching and learning. In addition to Convocation 2019 being an opportunity to offer a cutting-edge conference experience it also offers experienced educators a way to give back to the profession by sharing their expertise and where attendees of all generations and experience levels gain as much as possible from the information shared.

Please use the criteria listed below to evaluate each proposal. Proposals with the highest rating will be incorporated into the Convocation program as space permits.

Scoring Rubric

Reviewers will evaluate how well the presentation will fulfill the outlined objectives using a scale of 1–4, with 1 being “N/A or does not meet criteria” and 4 being “meets or exceeds criteria.”

Please support your ratings with narrative, including detailed concerns, questions, suggestions for improvement, and further explanation of your evaluation.

Proposal Submission Form: Information requested on the proposal submission form is complete.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Clarity of Proposal: Area of experience is clear in proposal.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Selection Criteria: 2019 The Power of Great Chapters Poster Session

The Power of Great Chapters Poster Session is an informal way for chapters to share best practices and successful strategies within the Chapter Member Engagement Model. During this poster session, current and future chapter leaders can pick up new ideas for programming, leadership, and chapter management.

Possible topics for this chapter-specific poster session include service projects, officer training, member recruitment and retention programs, fundraising practices, literacy programs, and becoming an Achieving Chapter Excellence (ACE) chapter. This session is not intended for sharing scholarly research, and posters not based on chapter improvement will not be accepted.

Criteria

The criteria below will determine which posters are accepted for the poster session. Poster presentations and up to three presenters will be listed in the Convo Mobile App.

Proposal Submission Form: Information requested on the proposal submission form is complete and submitted by the deadline.

Chapter Member Engagement Model: The content aligns with goals of the Chapter Member Engagement Model http://www.kdp.org/chapters/pdf/chaptertoolbox/chapter_member_engagement_model.pdf

Theme/Strands: The presentation addresses relevant chapter programming or chapter management.

Focus: The presentation is pertinent to chapter leaders.

Practicality of Information: The information is practical, can be easily implemented, and has broad applicability.

Handouts: Handouts will be available and digital version will be provided to download from the mobile app.

Content: The content of the message is stated clearly.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Practicality: The content is helpful for an educator's practice and can be implemented in his/her classroom.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Relevance: Offers advice that is rich with experience and relevance.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

The Topic: Has potential to attract Convo attendees and to meet a professional need.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Learning Outcomes: Learning outcomes for attendees are well-defined.

1 2 3 4

Comments:

Total Score:

Recommendation: Accept Accept, if space is available Do not accept

Additional Comments: