Call for Manuscripts for Special Issue
Volume 55, No. 1 (January 2019)

Comparative Practices in Education Across Borders

The Kappa Delta Pi Record is seeking original manuscripts from teams of educators from the Pre-K through university levels on education practices that transcend national boundaries, cultures, and contexts to inform classroom instruction or school leadership. Preference will be given to comparative writings from author teams comprised of educators from two or more countries. Manuscripts can be submitted in one of these categories:

- In My View professional commentaries (1,200–1,800 words)
- Curriculum Connections (1,200–1,800 words)
- Feature articles (2,500–3,500 words)

All submissions must be based on research and applicable to Pre-K to 12 settings. Feature articles should focus on practical application of ideas in classrooms. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, inclusive education, bilingual education, student assessment, instructional leadership, professional development practices, teacher evaluation, culturally relevant teaching, social justice education, and career readiness.

Submission deadline: June 1, 2018
Submissions must be made at http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ukdr
Please use code 551 at the beginning of your manuscript title.
